

ARTICLES

- Korean Confucianism and Ecology Theme Issue:
Guest Editor's Introduction
By EDWARD Y. J. CHUNG 1-13
- Confucianism, Korean Confucianism and Ecological Discourse
By HONG WON-SIK 15-40
- The Contemporary Confucian Heritage and the Environment of Worldly Confucians and Tobak Confucians
By MICHAEL C. KALTON 41-55
- Human Fulfillment and Love of the Universe: A Meditation on Emotion in Korean and Chinese Sources
By PHILIPPE THIÉBAULT 57-91
- Yi T'oegye on Reverence (Kyōng) for Nature:
A Modern Neo-Confucian Ecological Vision
By EDWARD Y. J. CHUNG 93-111
- Ecology and Cosmology: A Korean Neo-Confucian Approach
By YOUNG-CHAN RO 113-123
- Ecologism and Confucian Pro-life-ism
By YOO KWON JONG 125-148

The Current State of the Ecological Discourse within Korean
Confucianism and Its Future Outlook
By KIM SEA-JEONG 149–193

The Origin and Preservation of Relic Forests and Confucianism in Korea
By KIM JONGWON, LEE JUNGA,
LIM JEONGCHEOL and HWANG SOOKYOUNG 195–223

ARTICLES

Threat to the Family Revolution in North Korea: Reading the Individual in Paek Nam-ryong's Friend
By IMMANUEL KIM 225–245

LITERATURE IN TRANSLATION

Selected Poems by CHŎNG KŪGIN and YI I (YULGOK)
Translated by KEVIN O'ROURKE 247–253

BOOK REVIEWS

Comforting an Orphaned Nation: Representations of International Adoption and Adopted Koreans in Korean Popular Culture
By Tobias Hübinette
DANIEL SCHWEKENDIEK 255–258

Twentieth Century Korean Literature
By Lee Namho, Wu Chan Je, Lee Kwangho, and Kim Mi Hyun
Translated by Youngju Ryu. Edited by Brother Anthony, of Taizé
JUYOUNG JIN 258–260

Modern Korean Drama: An Anthology
Edited by Richard Nichols
JAN CREUTZENBERG 260–266

Service Economies: Militarism, Sex Work and Migrant Labor in South Korea

By Jin-kyung Lee

DONALD KIRK

266–268